

The Second Chandra Mohan Memorial Conference on Comparative Literature

Organised by the Department of Comparative Literature, Jadavpur University
in association with the
Humanities in India Programme, University of East Anglia,
and the
Comparative Literature Association of India

Theme: Academic Social Responsibility and Literary Studies in India

Dates: July 7 (offline), 8 (offline) and 9 (online), 2026

Call for Papers

We invite academic papers on the theme, “Academic Social Responsibility and Literary Studies in India” for the Second Chandra Mohan Memorial Conference on Comparative Literature.

The conference celebrates Professor Chandra Mohan’s contribution to Comparative Literature in India. The first edition was organized by the Department of Comparative Literature, Jadavpur University, in association with the Comparative Literature Association, Kolkata Chapter, in 2025.

Literary Studies in India has changed radically over the last few decades. Many of the curricular and pedagogical changes have, in fact, been influenced and impacted by Comparative Literature and its disciplinary practice. As Sisir Kumar Das had written many years ago, the success of Comparative Literature in India cannot be measured in numerical terms, that is, in terms of the number of university departments dedicated to the study of Comparative Literature; it can be understood better if we explore how our discipline has impacted, and often transformed other disciplines, thereby leading us towards a more interdisciplinary and holistic Humanities.

One of the underpinnings of Comparative Literature practice in India has been the idea of Academic Social Responsibility. Our discipline, right from its inception in India, has been concerned with the question of relevance, and of aligning itself with part of the larger move to effect positive social change. The conference hopes to feature academic papers focusing on the myriad aspects of the relationship between Academic Social Responsibility and Comparative Literature and take a critical look at pedagogic trajectories of the Humanities in India as well as beyond it.

We invite abstracts of around 300 words by midnight of May 12, 2026. Abstracts must be accompanied by your name, status (postgraduate student, PhD research scholar, faculty, etc.), and university/ college affiliation (see form below). Please also indicate if you wish to present in the offline/ online mode. This is primarily an offline conference, though we shall arrange a few online sessions as well. There are a few registration waivers for BA and MA students only, who can demonstrate need—if you wish to apply for the registration waiver, please indicate that while submitting your abstract.

Abstracts must be sent to cmconference2026@gmail.com with CM in the subject line.

Papers should be of 15-minutes’ presentation length.

Registration Fees

Online: Rs 750 + GST 135 = Rs 885

Offline:

Students: Rs1500+ GST 270 = Rs 1770

Faculty: Rs 3000 + GST 540 = Rs 3540

Registration for offline participants includes kit and lunch on 2 days. Participants need to make their own arrangements for their travel and accommodation in Kolkata, as the organisers are not in a position to fund these, However, up to 10 need-based registration waivers are available for BA and MA students who apply for the same.

Sub-themes:

History of Literary Studies in India
Scope of Comparative Literature
Translation and Comparative Literature
Literary Studies beyond India and Literary Studies in India: Influence, Reception, Collaboration
Interdisciplinarity and Literary Studies
The Humanities: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow
Literary Studies in a Globalised World
Comparative Literature and the Social Sciences
Internationalisation of the Humanities in India
Curriculum Formulation and Academic Social Responsibility
Cultural Studies
Literary Studies and the Digital Imperative
Medical Humanities
Environmental Humanities
Literary Studies and the Subaltern
Indigeneity and Academic Social Responsibility
Translation and Academic Social Responsibility

Important Dates

Abstracts are being accepted in the rolling mode now. They will be read on a weekly basis starting from April 20, 2026. You should get an acceptance or a rejection within seven days of sending in your abstract. You will have another seven days to register your participation. This is important so that outstation participants have enough time to do their travel bookings, and to avoid last-minute rush. Therefore, we encourage you to apply early.

Last date for accepting abstract: May 14, 2026

Last batch of acceptance letters: May 21, 2026

Registration deadline: within seven days of getting acceptance letters

This conference derives from the work done as part of the SPARC (Phase 2) project P2661 on 'Academic Social Responsibility and the Humanities in India' undertaken by Jadavpur University and the University of East Anglia (2023-2026).

REGISTRATION FORM

The Second Chandra Mohan Memorial Conference on Comparative Literature

Organised by the Department of Comparative Literature, Jadavpur University

in association with the

Humanities in India Programme, University of East Anglia,

and the

Comparative Literature Association of India

Theme: Academic Social Responsibility and Literary Studies in India

Tentative Dates: July 7 (offline), 8 (offline) and 9 (online), 2026

Completed form to be e-mailed to cmconference2026@gmail.com

NAME: _____

STATUS AND AFFILIATION (e.g., MA English 1st year student, University of Delhi):

MODE: OFFLINE / ONLINE

E-MAIL & PHONE NUMBER: _____

TITLE: _____

APPLYING FOR REGISTRATION WAIVER: NO / YES (ONLY FOR BA AND MA STUDENTS; IF APPLYING, PLEASE ATTACH FAMILY INCOME CERTIFICATE ALONG WITH FORM)

ABSTRACT: _____
